

WHY WE, SEVEN SUMMIT TREKS DON'T PUBLISH TRIP PACKAGES PRICE ON OUR WEBSITE

We, Seven Summit Treks receive a lot of queries about not including the price of each trip packages on our website. This is because every individual's requirement for a trip (Expedition/Trek) may vary from the others and we offer a standard reasonable price through direct consultation with the clients by providing detailed information regarding their needs. Below are some of the thoughtful reasons that vary the price and explain why we have excluded the trip price on our website:

- Most of the Seven Summit Treks trip packages are based on Standard Services but we also provide customized VVIP and Luxury Services according to the requirement of the clients making the price much higher than the standard price.
- We, Seven Summit Treks organize our expeditions as a Full Board Service or as a Basecamp Service which directly affects the cost of the trip.
- The price of the trips is subject to the number of members in a group, the category of the hotel accommodation you want to stay in, and the service you seek in the mountains.
- The schedule of the trip may need to be changed after figuring out the requirement of the clients. This could cause changes in the itinerary where there could be an addition or deduction of several days which may lead to changes in price as well.
- The requirement of additional climbing Sherpa guides, high altitude workers, kitchen staff, and basecamp staff may add up the price of the trip.
- The size of a group; the number of climbers, non-climbers, basecamp supporters, medical teams, and climbing guides also determine the price of a trip.
- If any of the clients wants an additional oxygen bottle, and the brands of mask regulators you wanted the price will be higher to some extent.
- The climbing season also makes difference in the price of a trip. If you join a trip in summer, autumn, or winter the price will be lesser compared to the spring season.
- If clients ask for a special diet in base camp or higher camps then the price may be a bit higher than the standard foods that are provided during the trip.

Above are some of the examples of situations that can differ in the price range for the same trip that is provided on our website. So, after thoughtful consultation with the clients, we offer a standard reasonable price. Please feel free to contact us for any kind of information needed regarding the price of a trip you are interested in.
